

Strategic Partnership Vision

Enhancing Food Security and Building Strategic Partnership between the Arab Republic of Egypt and the Republic of Kazakhstan

Presented by Yousria Yousry group Head of External Procurement and Supply Chain GroupFuture Egypt for Sustainable Development

Welcome and Appreciation

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to the friendly Government of Kazakhstan for this generous invitation.

It is our honour to join this important platform to explore promising horizons for future cooperation between our nations.

Future Of Egypt for Sustainable Development

Mission

A national entity dedicated to enhancing economic growth and food security through comprehensive sustainable development initiatives.

Core Focus Areas

- Modern agriculture and strategic crops
- Integrated food industries
- Livestock and fisheries development
- Smart communities and essential goods supply

Shared Vision for Food Security Cooperation

Strategic Crops

Focusing on wheat as the cornerstone of our agricultural partnership, ensuring stable supply chains for both nations.

Fresh Produce

Expanding cooperation in vegetables and fruits to diversify trade and meet growing market demands.

Livestock Sector

Developing joint initiatives in animal husbandry to strengthen protein security across both markets.

Egypt as Gateway to Africa

1

Port Development

Modernising grain and oil reception facilities to handle increased Kazakhstani exports efficiently.

2

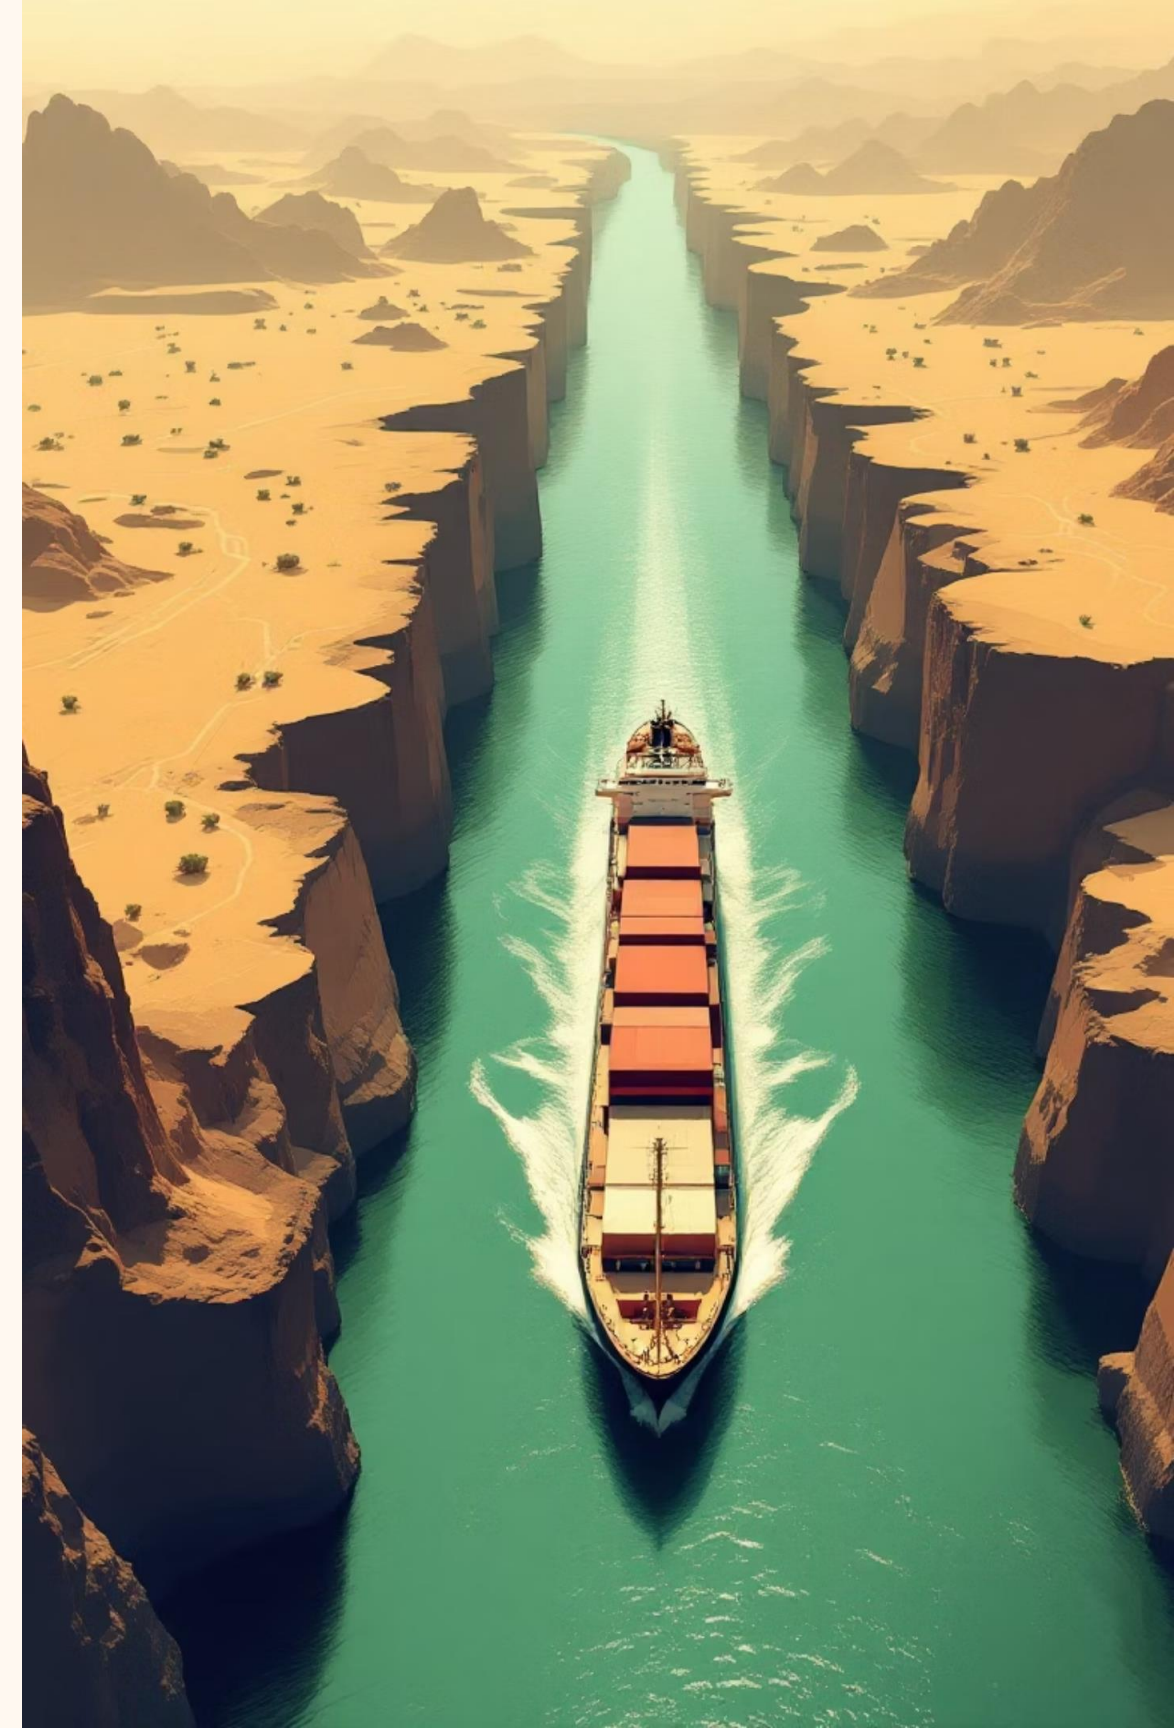

Logistics Hubs

Establishing strategic storage centres for grains and agricultural products near key transport corridors, such as the Economic Zone of Suez Canal.

3

Infrastructure Cooperation

Joint development of railway networks and river transport systems for optimal cargo flow.

Strategic Partnership Proposal: Wheat Security Protocol

"Securing Egypt's position as the world's largest wheat importer whilst enhancing Kazakhstan's global market presence"

Objective

Allocate dedicated wheat quota from Kazakhstan to Egypt, starting with 1-2 million tonnes annually at preferential pricing to offset transport costs.

Mutual Benefits

For Egypt: Diversified import sources with competitive pricing

For Kazakhstan: Access to the world's largest wheat import market, enhancing global reputation, and access to third importing countries in Africa and the Middle East.

Investment Proposal:

Kazakhstani Grain Hub in Egypt

1 Strategic Context

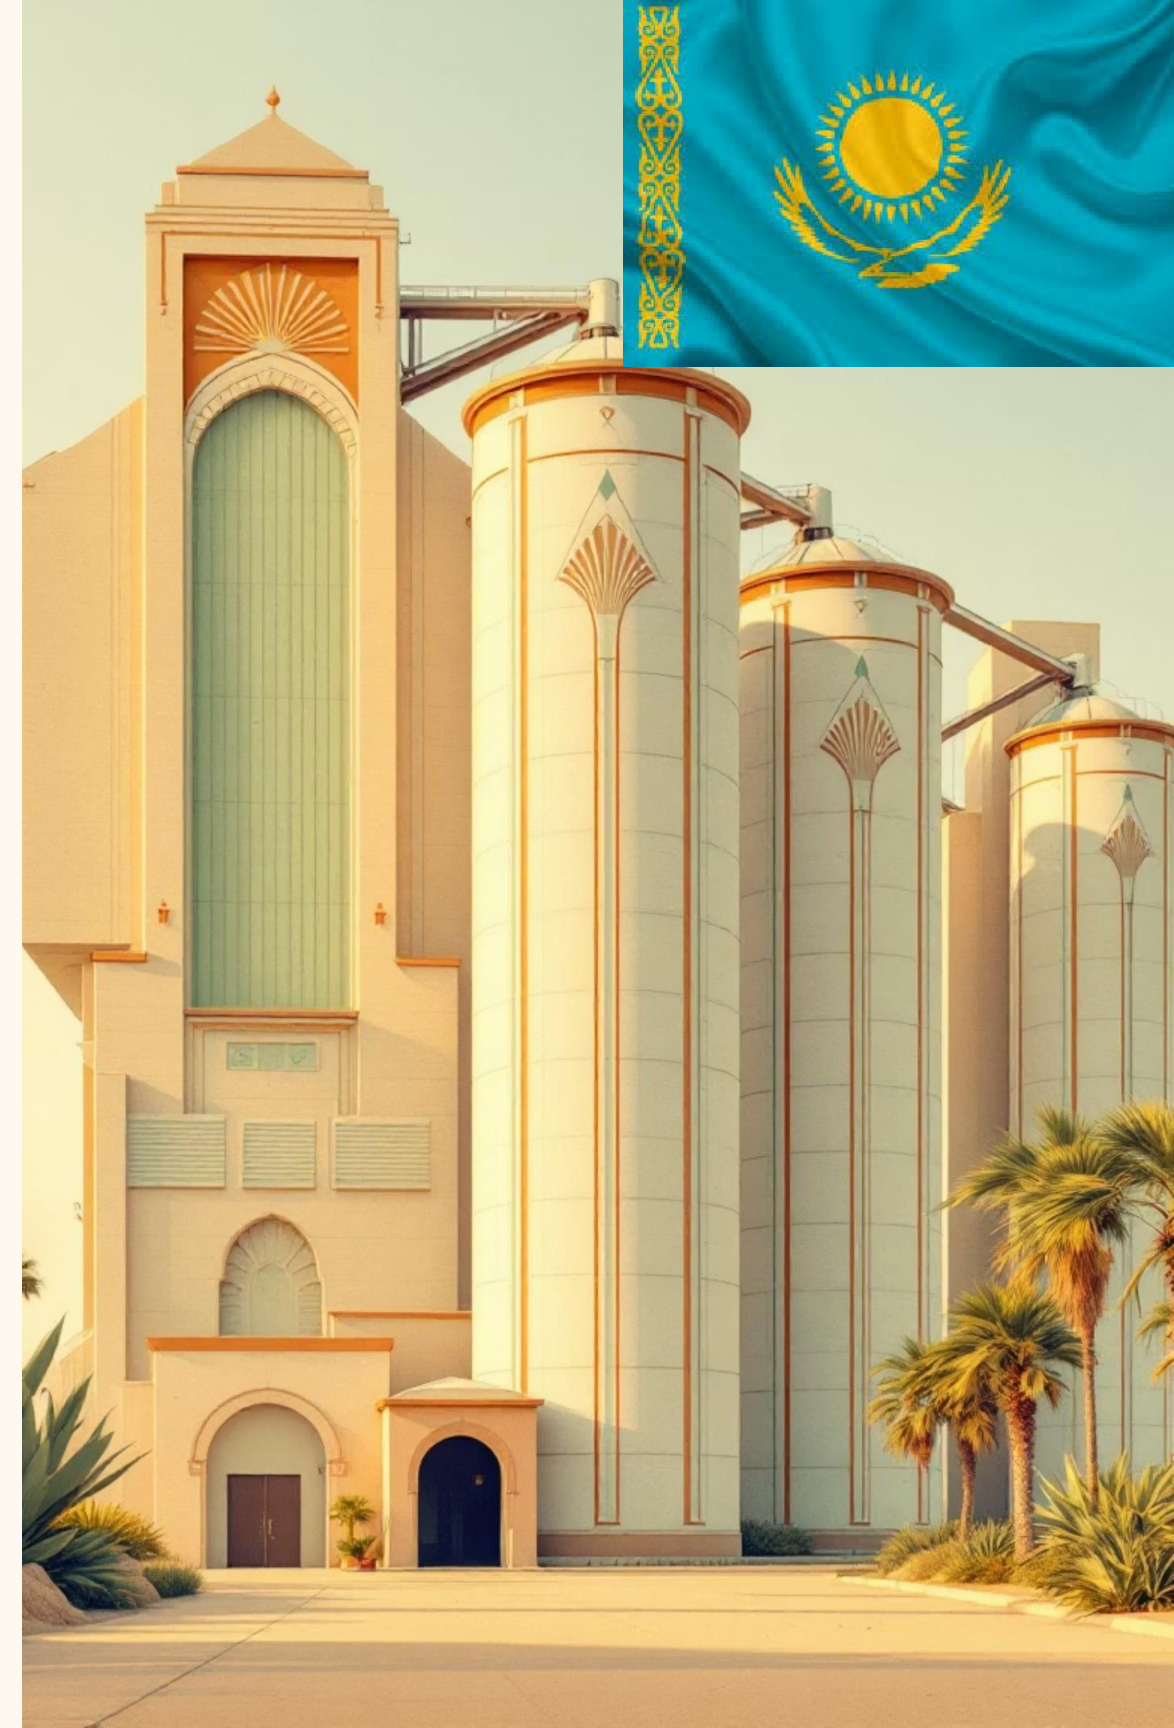

Supporting Egypt's initiative to establish a free trade zone with the Eurasian Economic Union.

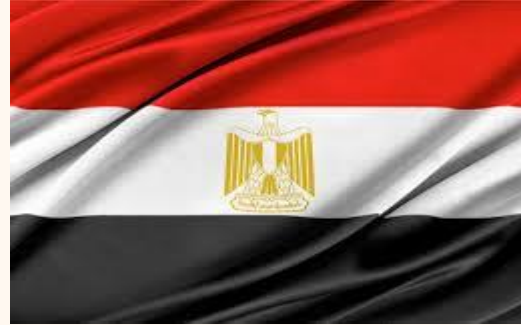

2 Project Vision

Create a free zone for storing and distributing Kazakhstani grains to regional and global markets via the Suez Canal corridor.

3 Implementation

Joint investment in world-class storage facilities with advanced logistics capabilities.

Mutual Benefits of the Logistics Hub

For Egypt

Strategic Reserve

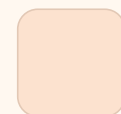

Easy access to wheat for domestic market when needed

Supply Flexibility

Transit goods ready for immediate market injection

For Kazakhstan

Export Sustainability

Guaranteed supply lines to MENA and Africa

Strategic Impact

Contributing to regional food security during crises

Why Egypt?

Market Opportunity

1 2.5 Mmt

Annual Wheat Imports

Egypt is the world's largest wheat importer with consistent demand

1 05 Mil

Growing Population

Rising domestic demand driven by population growth and refugee hosting

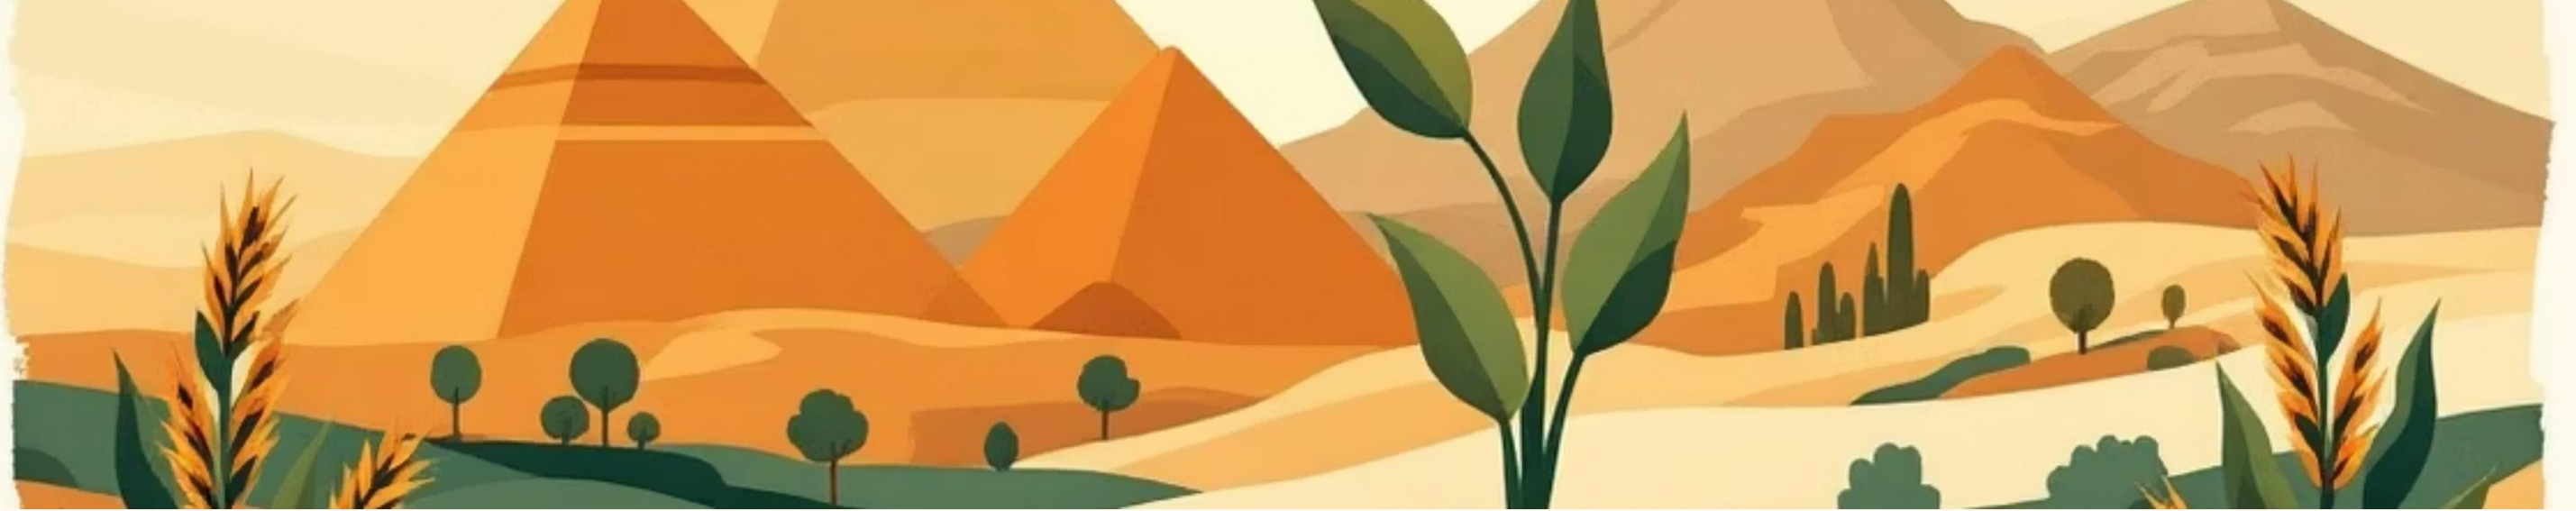

3

Continental Bridges

Strategic location connecting Asia, Europe, and Africa markets

These factors ensure a stable and extensive market for Kazakhstani products with long-term growth potential.

Building Our Shared Future

Natural Advantages

Both Egypt and Kazakhstan possess the natural resources and strategic positioning for mutual success.

Foundation for Partnership

These proposals represent the cornerstone of a robust partnership benefiting both our peoples.

Next Steps

We look forward to commencing discussions and transforming this vision into tangible reality.

"Together, we can build a more food-secure future for our regions and beyond."
